What is an electric shaver?

An electric shaver is an electric device that can shave the hair of the body. It can be with or without a power cord. If it is a cordless shaver, it can be battery powered or recharged. Electric shavers are generally durable, portable, and can provide various accessory options or other functions. For example, some electric shavers have trimming and exfoliating accessories. And, depending on the type of electric shaver, you can choose dry or wet shave.

Having said that, if you use a cordless electric shaver, and the shaver is exhausted, you must wait until the shaver will charge or the battery needs to replace before shaving. Electric shavers are also larger than manual shavers, less portable and more expensive.
